ProQuest Increases Allied Health Journal Coverage

Effective June 2006, the ProQuest Nursing Journals database in GALILEO changed its name to ProQuest Nursing and Allied Health Source to reflect the addition of 110 full-text journals increasing coverage to include radiology and nuclear medicine, orthopedics, pharmacology, hematology, nutrition and other allied health fields. An additional 45 journals are now indexed and abstracted in the new database as well. Articles from these journals are available on Interlibrary Loan.

E-mail Carter Nipper, Reference and Instruction Librarian, for a complete list of new journals and years of coverage.

Stay Up to Date in Your Occupational Field with Journal Alerts

Did you know that EBSCOhost and ProQuest let you set alerts on particular journals, so you can receive the Tables of Contents of new issues in your Inbox as they arrive?

To set an alert:

1. Open GALILEO www.galileo.usg.edu in your web browser.
2. Click on List Databases A-Z (under Find Databases beneath the Quick Search box)
3. Choose the database that contains the journal you want (for EBSCOhost, we'll use Academic Search Premier, for ProQuest, Research Library)

Contact Carter Nipper, Reference and Instruction Librarian, at 757-3547 or cnipper@centralgatech.edu for assistance in locating journals of interest and setting up alerts.

EBSCOhost

1. Click on the Publications button on the green bar near the top of the page.
2. Use the Browse Publications: search box to find the journal title.
3. Click on the journal title to open the Publication Details page.
4. Click on the Journal Alert link in the upper right-hand corner of the Publication Details box.
5. If you have already set up an EBSCOhost account, sign in. Otherwise, click on I'm a new user and fill out the sign-up form.
6. Customize the settings on the Journal Alert page to suit your preferences and click on the Save button.

ProQuest

1. Click on the Publications tab at the top of the screen.
2. Use the Publication Search box to find the journal title.
3. On the Publication Details page, click on the Set Up Alert link near the top of the page.
4. Customize your preferences and enter your e-mail address and an optional message and click the Save button.

The CGTC Library Staff are ready to assist you with all your informational needs. Please feel free to come by, phone, or e-mail (library@centralgatech.edu) us with your questions and requests.
